

Media consolidation is a clear and present danger to our democracy because wealthy conglomerates can force feed slanted material to the masses. Sinclair is using the public airwaves without having to pay and without giving a balanced view. This is unacceptable. They should be serving all of the public not just the right wing.

At least Sinclair should be forced to show for no cost a Kerry program such as "Going upriver."

It is obvious that media ownership rules need to be strengthened so that media giants like Sinclair are forced to give a truly balanced rather than partisan one-sided view without charge.

Sincerely,

Patricia Egenberger
